

ABSTRACT

A laminated glass comprising two glass sheets, a polyvinylchloride interlayer located between the two glass sheets, and an adhesive layer located between the interlayer and 5 each of the two glass sheets, wherein at least one of the adhesive layers is formed from a material comprising a polyurethane, a polyester or a combination thereof.